ORDER

On December 3, 2020, the Court ordered pro se plaintiff Stacey Haslem Roberts to amend her complaint. Doc. 3. Specifically, the Court asked Roberts to “identif[y] any and all defendants, relief sought, and facts she wishes to make a part of this lawsuit.” Id. at 5. Roberts was also ordered to “list each defendant again in the body of [the amended complaint] and tell the Court exactly how that defendant violated her rights.” Id. The Court warned that failure to link a defendant to a claim would result in the claim being dismissed. Id.

In her amended complaint, it appears Roberts decided to sue only one defendant, the United States Postal Service. Doc. 4 at 2. Roberts attempts to bring a wide range of claims.¹ Id. at 4-6; 5 at 1-3. However, in the facts attached to Roberts’s complaint form, she does not mention the United States Postal Service a single time. Doc. 5. Instead, she seemingly questions the validity of a search warrant, she appears to ask why the FDIC will not insure the money taken from her bank account in an in rem civil action commenced by the government, and she requests the Court release information used by the government in a state court grand jury proceeding. Id. at 1-3. Roberts has not explained how any of this relates to the United States Postal Service—the sole defendant.

Therefore, because Roberts has not explained how the United States Postal Service violated her rights, she has failed to state a claim. Roberts's amended complaint (Doc. 4) is DISMISSED without prejudice.

SO ORDERED, this 22nd day of December, 2020.
